

Luke 15:11-24

International Bible Lesson Applications

1. Some seek the temporary pleasures this world offers instead of the everlasting joy that flows from living within the circle of God's love and will.
2. Those who walk away from God will suffer.
3. God knows when His children need to be sought and found, and when they need to suffer until they come to themselves and return to Him.
4. When God's children return to their Heavenly Father, He will bless them far beyond their expectations, cleanse them, and grant them peace.
5. God rejoices every time a sinner repents (see Luke 15:10).
